Cub Scouting is for Boys

Cub Scouting is for boys, and each boy is different. Cub Scouts come in all sizes, shapes, and colors and from a variety of backgrounds. There are no “average” boys. Cub Scouting is easily adaptable to a boy with a physical, mental, or emotional limitation, just as it is adaptable to boy who come from low-income, urban or rural areas.

Cub Scouting is Fun

Boys join Cub Scouting because they want to have fun. For boys, however, fun means a lot more than just having a good time. Fun is a boy’s code word for the satisfaction he gets from meeting challenges, having friends, feeling good, and feeling he is important to other people. While boys are having fun and doing things they like to do, they also learn new things, discover and master new skills, gain self-confidence, and develop strong friendships. Cub Scouting is a positive place where friends and leaders accept and support each boy.

Cub Scouting is for Families

There are many different types of family structures in today’s society. Scouting is a support to all types of families as well as to organizations to which families belong. We believe in involving families in the training of youth, and we are sensitive to the needs of present-day families. Cub Scouting provides opportunities for family members to work and play together, to have fun together, and to get to know each other a little better.

Cub Scouting Provides Adventure

Cub Scouting helps fulfill a boy’s desire for adventure and allows him to use his vivid imagination while taking part in skits, games, field trips, service projects, outdoor activities, and more. The use of monthly themes lets a boy play the role of an astronaut, clown, explorer, scientist, or other exciting characters. Boys find adventure in exploring the outdoors, learning about nature, and gaining a greater appreciation for our world.

Cub Scouting has an Advancement Plan

The advancement plan recognizes a boy’s efforts and achievements. It provides fun for the boys, teaches them to do their best, and helps strengthen understanding as family members work with boys and advancement requirements. Badges are awarded to recognize advancement, and boys like to receive and wear these badges. The real benefit comes from the worthwhile things the boy learns while he is earning the badges, as his self-confidence and self-esteem grow.

Cub Scouting Belong

Belonging is important to boys. They like to be accepted as part of a group. In Cub Scouting, boys belong to a small group called a den where they take part in interesting and meaningful activities with their friends. In the den they learn sportsmanship, good citizenship, and loyalty. They learn how to get along with others and how to do their best for themselves and their den. Cub Scouts also belong to a pack, which is a larger group made up of several dens.

The Cub Scouting Den

A den is a group of six to eight boys within the pack, usually at the same grade level, that meets several times a month between pack meetings. The den organization allows boys to build relationships with leaders and other boys. The den provides opportunities for activities that would be difficult with a large group. The den also provides leadership opportunities for the boys.

More Information

This and the following information are brief overviews of the Cub Scout Den and how it is organized. For more detailed information please refer to the Cub Scout Leader Book and the Webelos Leader Guide.

Program Ideas for your First Month's Den Meetings

Theme: "Bobcats All"

Every boy in second, third, fourth, or fifth grade must earn the Bobcat badge first. So, what could be a better first theme than "Bobcats All"?

The Bobcat requirements include the fundamentals of Cub Scouting. Keep in mind that Cub Scouts and Webelos Scouts should do these requirements with their parents at home. The den meeting plans will include practicing the requirements at the meeting, but parents should still approve their completion in the boy's book.

Cub Scout Den Meeting

The objectives for this month's den meetings are to give every boy the opportunity to earn his first award-Bobcat; to complete den organization, get acquainted, and elect boy leaders; and to give leaders and boys an idea of how den meetings are conducted.

A grid on the next page will outline all four of the Cub Scout den meetings this month. Here are the details.

Den Code Of Conduct

Boys will respond to and respect rules if they have a part in setting them. Before your first den meeting, think about some of the rules you would like to have your den follow at meetings. Have a large piece of paper or poster board and a marking pen ready for the meeting.

During the business part of your first den meeting, introduce the idea of a Den Code of Conduct by asking, "What are some of the things you are not allowed to do in your home?" As boys respond, have them agree on their rules them on the piece of paper. When they agree on the list, post it at all of your den meetings.

Ask, "What should happen if someone breaks a part of the code?" and let the boys discuss this. One possibility is that the first time he must phone home and have his parents pick him up immediately. (If you do this, make provisions for someone to pick up your son if necessary.)

Share the code of conduct with the parents of your Cub Scouts.

Some dens use a "Conduct Candle" as an incentive for good behavior. A large candle is lit at the start of the den meeting, and stays lit until there is a behavior problem, or until the end of the meeting. Tell the boys that when the candle burns to the end, there will be a special den party or field trip.

This Months Den Activities

This month's openings, closing gatherings, and den activities are designed to be simple and fun, using materials you might have around your house.

Gathering Activities

It Can't Be Done.

First, the leader says that he can jump backward farther than the boys can jump forward if they do exactly as he does. Then he grasps his toes and hops backward a few inches. When the boys assume the same position, they find they cannot even budge.

Guess Who I Am.

The leader starts by saying, "I will answer 'yes' or 'no' to twenty questions while you try to find out who I am." This is a good den game that will also keep boys busy and quiet at the pack meeting. With the help of one leader for each den, leaders can decide who they will be, and the game can be conducted as a contest to see which den can guess who they are. Rotate leaders each time.

Magic Knot Trick.

The den leader provides several pieces of rope or cord about three feet long. Ask a Cub Scout if he can tie an overhand knot in the middle of the cord without letting go of either end. He lets the Cub Scout try it, then shows him the trick:

First he folds his arms over his chest, then he leans over and picks up each end of the cord without unfolding his arms. As he straightens up, he unfolds his arms-still holding the ends of the cord- and, presto, there's the overhand knot!

Clothespin Game.

Place a wide-mouthed bottle or jar upright on the floor. Give each boy, in turn, ten clothespins. Have him stand over the bottle and, holding each clothespin at eye level, try to drop them into the bottle.

Webelos Den Meetings

Webelos dens are similar in many ways to Cub Scout dens, but there are a few differences. Webelos Scouts are older, and are looking for something different. These are the parts of a Webelos den meeting:

1. Gathering

As is the case with Cub Scouts, if Webelos Scouts do not have something to do, they will find something on their own. Tricks, games, puzzles, or practicing the Boy Scout joining requirements should keep them busy.

2. Opening

In addition to getting the meeting off to a formal start, this may be another good time to practice the Boy Scout joining requirements. After the ceremony, a roll call, uniform inspection, and collection of dues may be appropriate.

3. Activity Badge Fun

As your Cub Scout Leader Book says, this is the heart of the meeting. This is a time for instruction, practice, games, and contests related to the activity badge you have chosen for this month. Consider asking a parent who has knowledge or skill related to your activity badge to help out as an “activity badge counselor.”

4. Preparation

This is when you can practice for your den’s part in the pack meeting and/or for upcoming projects or activities.

5. Closing

Use this time for announcements and a formal end of your meeting. A good closing can be the opportunity to get some strong messages out to your Webelos Scouts about the aims of Scouting – Citizenship training, character building, and personal fitness.

5. After the Meeting

Den leadership should evaluate the meeting and review plans for the next meeting and upcoming events.

Getting Started

No matter what grade a boy is in when he chooses to join Cub Scouting, he needs to earn an award during this first month as he starts along the Scouting trail. First-grade boys will begin their adventure in Scouting by earning the Tiger Cub belt totem. Boys in all other grades will complete the Bobcat requirements, which include learning the fundamentals of Cub Scouting.

The following pages have been designed to take the “guesswork” out of running den meetings your first month. We have provided you all of the information needed for you to get your den meetings off to a great start and have your boys earn their first award.

You will need to acquire the appropriate Tiger Cub, Cub Scout or Webelos books in order for you to fully utilize these materials. Information included:

- ✓ Tiger Cubs.....1st months den meeting plans and activities

Objective: Earn the Tiger Cub Belt Totem

- ✓ *Wolf, Bear,
and Webelos Scouts.....1st months den meeting plans and activities*

Objective: Earn the Bobcat Badge

Webelos Scout Den Meetings - 1st Month “Bobcats All”

Sportsman Activity Badge

For your first meeting you will need to have the Webelos Leader Guide, Cub Scout Leader Book, Webelos Scout Handbook and the How To Book. These items are available through your pack or the Scout Service Center. Review items below to prepare for your first month’s den meetings.

First Month

Welcome to Webelos (We’ll be Loyal Scouts) Scouting! As a new Webelos leader, you and your Webelos Scouts are probably anxious to get started on the activity badges in the Webelos Scout Book. However, if most or all of the boys are new to Cub Scouting, they will first need to earn the Bobcat rank. The meetings outlined here are designed to get the den organized, to help all the boys become Bobcats, and to help them earn the Sportsman activity badge.

Look over the material in the Cub Scout section on the Den Code of Conduct and the gathering activities. We will be using these in the Webelos den meetings, too.

Activity Badges

Each month the Webelos den program will feature one of twenty Webelos activity badges. For the first month we will work on Sportsman.

Don’t be afraid of the technical-sounding names like Geologist and Engineer. Keep in mind that these badges are designed for fourth and fifth graders, and there are lots of resources to help you. Take advantage of them, and if you aren’t careful, you might have some fun and learn something, too!

When you start using Program Helps, you will find that there is a pattern involved in earning the activity badges that leads toward earning the Webelos badge and the Arrow of Light Award. Keep this pattern in mind when you plan so that your Webelos Scouts do not miss an activity badge that they need.

Webelos-To-Scout Transition

If your Webelos Scouts are in the fifth grade (or are 10 years old) it is not too early to contact a Boy Scout troop and begin the process of preparing your Webelos Scouts to become Boy Scouts. Your Cub Scout Leader Book and Webelos Scout Program Helps can help with ideas.

However, you need to be careful, regardless of how old the boys are. Some of us who were Boy Scouts tend to do too many “Boy Scout things” too early.

Keep the age and abilities of your Webelos Scouts in mind, and keep them looking forward to the excitement of Boy Scouting.

Prepare them to become Boy Scouts when the time comes, but don’t make them Boy Scouts too early.

Sportsman Activity Badge

Your Webelos Leader Book (page 138) will have more detailed information about other activities and requirements for earning this activity badge.

Sports are usually high on the list of favorites for Webelos Scout-age boys, so most boys will show an instant interest in the Sportsman activity badge. Chances are some of them will already know enough about the rules. Techniques, and scoring of several sports to pass the requirements quickly. But that isn’t enough.

We’re not as concerned with the athletic skills as we are with fitness and good citizenship, which help fulfill the purposes of Cub Scouting. Your own example will help to achieve these goals. Be sure that the least skilled boys get just as much instruction and encouragement as the best athletes. See that the better athletes learn not only to tolerate more awkward boys but to help them, and that all boys learn to win and lose with grace. Stress the fun of the game, not just the winning.

To earn this badge, boys must earn Cub Scout Sports participation awards for two individual sports and two team sports. This means that a variety of opportunities should be available to them in den meetings.

Den Activities

Forehead Squeeze Play

Activity level: Moderate

Needed: Large playing area, even number of players, several tennis balls or oranges

The object is for two players in each team to carry a ball or orange across the room and back again by holding it between their foreheads. If dropped, start again. When the first pair completes their circuit, the next pair in that team begins. Hand over the ball or orange quickly.

(How-To Book, page 3-16)

Balloon Battle Royal

Activity level: High

Needed: Any # of players, balloons, string

Arrange Cub Scouts in a large circle, each with an inflated balloon tied to his ankle. On a signal, players try to break all other balloons by stomping on them, while not letting their balloon get broken. When a balloon is broken, that player leaves the game. The game continues until only one player is left. Scouts knocked out of the game should be encouraged to cheer on those still playing.
